

United in Mission?

This illustration has been published by Rural Mission Solutions. RMS is not aware of any copyright on the picture and the originator is unknown. If you know who the artist was and of any existing copyright, please contact RMS at the address below.

How to use this illustration

The title given to this picture says it all. It illustrates the peril of a church that lacks a clear sense of mission that is owned by the whole congregation.

It can be used as a discussion starter. Clearly the man up the mast is calling out. What might he be saying? He might give several instructions; could these be written in logical order?

If copies are printed off, perhaps people could be asked to colour in where they fit into the picture and write a short simple prayer.

If this illustration is used, please give a credit to where it has been sourced.

Rural Mission Solutions
Centre for Rural Mission
4 Clarence Street
Market Harborough
LE16 7NE

Email: info@ruralmissions.org.uk

www.ruralmissionsolutions.org.uk